SLX Ferry protection Bull Bars

SLX Ferry protection Bull Bars are a vital part of safeguarding your units' skin covers against direct shocks. During transportation of cargo your unit becomes susceptible to damage from a number of different sources; head on collisions during ferry crossings, low hanging roadside branches or trees, and other obstacles too numerous to mention. The SLX Ferry protection Bull Bars have been specifically adapted to fit the shape of the unit doors. The state of the art design ensures quick and easy access so that any maintenance can be done with ease, minimising downtime on the road.

It should be noted that local road regulations need to be applied and reinforcement areas need to be pre-prepared to ensure compatibility with OEM front wall design.
